CONSTANTINOPLE, March 17.

THE Ruſſians have again paſſed the Danube, near Ruzzig, and obtained ſome Advantage over the Turks, who wanted to hinder their paſſing that river.

We hear that the armiſtice between the Porte and Ruſſia was concluded on the 5th of this month; and that a regular correſpondence will be eſtabliſhed between Jaſſy (the place where the congreſs is to be held) and the cities of Vienna, Peterſbourg, Warſaw, and Conſtantinople.

Copenhagen, April 7. The Queen Julia appeared in publick yeſterday for the firſt time.

Berlin, April 21. Major General Anhalt, whom the King ſent about two months ago into Poland, to examine and ſet in order the Line of his Majeſty's troops there, is returned. Before his departure from Poland, this general diſperſed with 800 horſe, a body of 2000 under the orders of Zaremba, who loſt in this action 400 men, that is to ſay, 250 killed on the ſpot, and 150 taken priſoners, together with 6 pieces of cannon. A little before the action the Confederates inſulted the line of our troops, on which General Anhalt acquainted Zaremba, that if they did ſo again, he would attack them; but the Confederates renewing their inſults, General Anhalt kept his word, and gave them a thorough drubbing.

LONDON,

April 28. We are informed from good authority, that peace, in the eaſt of Europe, notwithſtanding the late ceſſation of arms, is far from being ſo certain an event as has been imagined. The Empreſs of Ruſſia, will not permit the Tartars of Crimea to return to their dependences on the Porte; and the Turks, if they permit the Ruſſians to navigate the Black Sea, may give up, at once Conſtantinople.

They write from Falmouth, that a Dutch man of war is loſt off the Land's End, and all the crew periſhed.

From Venice, March 26 they write that all their houſes, ſtreets, and fields are drenched with a ſhower of blood. This phenomenon has been accounted for upon the principles of natural philoſophy; there having been one wind reigning there for two months together, which had brought the red ſands of the Iſtrian mountains thither, and great quantities of rain falling at the ſame time, had actually diſſolved thoſe red ſands into a fluid ſtate, having the external appearance of blood.

Extract of a letter from Copenhagen.

"That part of the account in the London prints which I have read here, relating to our Queen, is certainly true, though not altogether in the manner you have it. You muſt know our Attorney General acted with great ſpirit in the trial, and dwelt much upon the part the King has acted in this buſineſs. He reminded them that the King was not the proſecutor, though the offence was alledged againſt him; nay, his Majeſty did not accuſe, but declared he was ſatisfied with the Queen; he confeſſed he thought her too good a woman for him, and acknowleged that he had long ſince been convinced in his own conſcience, that he was not a man good enough for her; and tho' he plainly perceived ſhe was no ſtranger to his infirmities, ſhe never would turn her back upon her huſband. When the High Commiſſion Court had heard all this, they began to relent, and inſtead of the heavy puniſhment which was expected, they ordered ſhe ſhould have two ſtout men every night to attend her.

APRIL 25.

The men of war deſtined for Newfoundland, are to have an additional quantity of men, who are to be employed in manning of ſloops and other ſmall veſſels, for the better protection of that trade.

It is ſaid that, during the courſe of the ſpeech made by Lord North yeſterday in the Houſe of Commons, his Lordſhip propheſied a peace for ten years to come.

The Lottery was yeſterday, among other articles of the budget, voted for the preſent year, and is to conſiſt of 60,000 tickets; the original price of each was declared by his Lordſhip to be 12l. 10s.

A correſpondent ſays the following may be depended on: Every thing is accommodated with the court of Denmark. Two men of war are ordered to ſail immediately to Copenhagen, with ſeveral officers of his Majeſty's houſhold on board, to conduct the Queen of Denmark to Patatz, from thence to Hanover where ſhe is to reſide during life.

May 2. With regard to the fate of the Queen of Denmark, it is now with confidence aſſerted, that ſhe is to be ſent to Zell, and to have a penſion, in lieu of her portion from Denmark, equal to 4000l. per ann. ſterling; alſo that her looſe behaviour in the Court was too notorious to be in any manner vindicated; but there were other crimes of a blacker dye laid againſt her. Our court ſay, that the fleet which they had ordered, prevented any other puniſhment being inflicted upon her than a divorce. This is, however, doubted by many, who ſay, that upon a fleet being ordered to be fitted out the French and Pruſſian Miniſters interfered, which ſo effectually frightened our court, that they gave private aſſurances, the orders for fitting out the fleet ſhould be countermanded, if they would join in an application to the Daniſh Court to deliver up the Queen to the Engliſh Miniſter, who would conduct her to Zell; which has been complied with. Without metaphor or exaggeration ſhe may be juſtly called the Meſſalina of Denmark.

Yeſterday, in the Houſe of Commons, the order of the day was read for ways and means; and between four and five o'clock the houſe went into a committee, Sir Charles Whitworth in the chair. Lord North then got up and opened the budget: A lottery was propoſed to be ſubſcribed for by thoſe who had 3 per cents. to have four tickets at 12l. 10s. a ticket out of every hundred, and 40l. in money, which will be 90l. for every 100l. and no gentleman to ſubſcribe more than 10,000l. the ſubſcription to be opened on Monday, and to be kept open till the 15th inſtant when he hoped he ſhould be able to pay off a million and an half. Mr. Burke, and the reſt of the minority objected to ſome parts of Lord North's ſpeech reſpecting the finances. His Lordſhip ſpoke very near two hours, and at nine o'clock the houſe broke up, and Sir Charles Whitworth is to make the report to the houſe this day.

A nobleman lately arrived in the neighbourhood of St. James's, from Rome, is greatly ſuſpected to have come here on a ſecret embaſſy; it is known that he had ſeveral audiences of a great perſonage, and that he does not ſend his diſpatches to Rome by the poſt, but by ſpecial meſſengers.

By a vote of the Houſe of Commons, paſſed this day, directions are given to the bank of England to receive the conſent of the proprietors of the three per cent. Conſolidated annuities, and the reduced three per cent. annuities payable there; and alſo of the old South Sea and new South Sea annuities, and of annuities granted Anno 1731, to ſubſcribe their ſtock upon the terms therein mentioned. This notice is therefore given that books will be opened at the bank of England, at eleven o'clock in the morning, on Monday next, to receive ſuch ſubſcriptions and conſent.

We hear, that the Spaniſh ambaſſador now here is ſhortly to be recalled, and that he will be ſucceeded by the Duke de Villharmoſa lately arrived here.

The act paſſed for the relief of inſolvent debtors will clear thoſe who were priſoners or fugitives for debt on or before the firſt day of January 1772; and the ſum allowed every priſoner out of his effects, (on delivering up all on oath) for wearing apparel, bedding for himſelf and family, working tools and neceſſary implements for his occupation and calling, is not to exceed 20l. In the preceding inſolvent acts the ſum allowed was only 10l. for thoſe uſes.

LONDON,

APRIL 28. Letters from Quebec mention that 3000 native Canadians had lately left that province, and gone to ſettle at Cayenne, St. Lucia, and other French colonies.

A correſpondent informs us that private accounts from Ireland are filled with the national diſcontents, and real miſeries, of the people of that kingdom.

Extract of a letter from an European, ſettled at Macao, a ſmall iſland on the coaſt of China, to his correſpondent at Liſbon, dated September 23, 1771.

"Some Uſbeck Tartars, called Nogais, who, according to the cuſtom of thoſe people, had travelled far from their own country to ſeek paſturage for their cattle, came in great numbers into the dominions of the Mungale Tartars, where was great plenty, in the beginning of the ſummer of 1770, but did not think proper to leave it, as is cuſtomary, and return to their own country after ſtaying the ſummer. This was reſented by the Mungale and other Chineſe Tartars, and deputies were ſent to them to requeſt their departure, but the former thinking themſelves ſtrong enough refuſed to leave the country; after ſeveral altercations they came to blows, when the Uſbeck Tartars were driven away, leaving 7 or 800 killed and wounded, beſides carrying off ſome who were wounded, on carriages. This happened at the end of September; but in the ſpring following they returned, in number about 200,000 headed by their Kans. The Chineſe Tartars being informed of it, and being joined by ſome of the Emperor of China's troops, went out, gave them battle, and defeated them, after killing and wounding upwards of 5000, among whom were ſeveral Kans; they likewiſe took a great number of waggons: The Chineſe had about 2000 killed and 2500 wounded. This battle was fought on the 28th of Auguſt 1771."

APRIL 30. Struenſee's fate will be determined on being found guilty of poiſoning, and an act of a leſs criminal nature.

May 2. We are well aſſured that a frigate and a yacht are now fitting out, and taking in proviſions for Copenhagen, to bring over a great perſonage, who, it is certain, will not go to Zell, but return to England.

It was on Thurſday reported in the purlieus of St. James's, and at the houſes of two or three great perſons in adminiſtration, that the Queen of Denmark, ſince ſhe had the offer made her of perpetual impriſonment, or perpetual baniſhment, has abſolutely declared herſelf for the former, unleſs ſhe is firſt brought to the ſpeech of the King her huſband; and that ſhe will never leave the kingdom of Denmark, if not compelled to it, without previouſly obtaining that interview.

Advice is received that the Jacob's Will, Thermin, after an obſtinate fight of four hours, was taken by a ſmall Spaniſh guarda coſta in Glover's reef, near the Bay of Honduras, and carried into Campeachy, where the crew are impriſoned; the Captain died by ill uſage.

His Majeſty's ſhip Chatham, of 50 guns, is now fitting for ſea at Portſmouth, as a flag ſhip, on board of which Vice Admiral Parry will hoiſt his flag for the Weſt-Indies, where he is to be ſtationed for three years.

By a gentleman juſt arrived from Paris, we are informed the pretender, from his being ſo many years devoted to his bottle, had no great devotion to the deed of matrimony, but was edged on by the French court to preſerve the name of Stewart, as a future convenience to their machinations. It is likewiſe ſaid, that the French King has added conſiderably to the Princeſs's fortune.

Yeſterday orders were given to ſeveral of his Majeſty's domeſticks, to be in readineſs to embark on the firſt notice for Copenhagen, to conduct Princeſs Caroline Matilda from that place to Zell, in the Electorate of Hanover, which is to be her place of reſidence.

The ſame day the houſe unanimouſly reſolved, that no bill relating to religion, or the alteration of the laws concerning religion, be brought into this houſe, until the propoſition ſhall have been firſt conſidered in a committee of the whole houſe, and agreed unto by the houſe; which reſolution was made a ſtanding order of the houſe.

MAY 4. It is now confidently ſaid that nothing but the cuſtomary ſupplies will be demanded from the Parliament; and that this advantage is owing to the prudent adminiſtration of Lord North, who, beſides avoiding the impoſition of any new burdens upon the ſubject, has paid off 1,800,000l. of the national debt in the courſe of the paſt winter.

The report of Sir Robert Keith's return from Copenhagen, as an invention of hoſtility againſt the Danes, is entirely without foundation. All matters are now finally ſettled between the two Courts, and if Sir Robert comes over for any time, it will be juſt as Sir Joſeph Yorke has done, merely on his own private affairs, with a view of returning the very firſt opportunity.

On Sunday morning five loaded waggons with proviſions and other neceſſaries, were ſent away from St. James's for Deal, to be put on board his Majeſty's ſhips deſtined for the Baltick, to eſcort her Royal Highneſs Carolina Matilda to Zell, and this morning ſeveral perſons belonging to the board of Green Cloth, will ſet out to embark on board the ſaid ſhips for that purpoſe.

Cavſton Houſe is now fitting up with great magnificence for the reception of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales. The additional furniture (though that in the Princeſs Dowager's time was very ſplendid) it is ſaid, will amount to 25,000l. and the Prince will reſide there the beginning of next winter, as by that time his houſhold will be thoroughly eſtabliſhed.

From the OXFORD MAGAZINE.

Adventure of the GREEN PEAS.

THE following anecdotes contain ſome ſingular events, as they really happened at Paris, without any alteration, or addition of circumſtances.

In the ſpring of the year, a young gentleman of great fortune, being deſirous of preſenting ſomething very rare to his miſtreſs inquired in the ſuburbs of Paris for Green Peas, and with great difficulty procured four half pint pottles; for each of which he paid ſix Louis d'ors; a moſt extravagant price; but it was the only valuable preſent he could think of, which the delicacy of his miſtreſs would not make her refuſe. For the lady was of a haughty diſpoſition, and would not have accepted any thing which might ſubject her to the imputation of ſelfiſhneſs.

It is not certain if the Cavalier gave orders, that ſhe ſhould be informed of the price, or whether the ſeaſon of the year, and the knowledge of their rarity made her gueſs it; however, as ſhe was more of the coquette than the epicure, ſhe could not help telling the meſſenger, that the gentleman who bought them, apparently had more money than wit.

Her mother, who was naturally avaricious, finding her of this opinion, propoſed to ſell the Peas; and after ſome altercation ſhe got the better of her delicacy, and made her conſent to ſend them to the market, where none had appeared, nor indeed was ſuch a rarity expected. The old lady luckily was acquainted with a woman, whoſe buſineſs it was to give intelligence to the ſtewards of people of quality, of every thing ſcarce, the firſt of its kind that was to be purchaſed.

This woman undertook the commiſſion to ſell the Peas, and ſet out with the intention to carry them to the hotel of the Prince de Condé, who was to give a ſuperb entertainment that day to the foreign miniſters.

In the interval, another admirer of the young lady paid her a viſit, and the converſation turned upon the backwardneſs of the ſpring, ſhe accidentally mentioned the ſcarceneſs of Green Peas, which made him conjecture ſhe had a deſire to taſte them: He therefore ſhortened his viſit, making ſome plauſible excuſe, and repaired to the moſt celebrated fruiterers in Paris; but to his mortification, all the intelligence he could procure was, that none had yet appeared, except four pottles, which an old woman had been ſeen conveying to the Prince de Condé's, The hopes of our enamoretto now revived; he loſt no time, and fortunately overtaking the woman, who knew him before ſhe reached the hotel, he thought himſelf very happy to obtain them at the moderate ſum of thirty Louis. The emiſſary, equally over joyed, returned to her employers with the money, and told the young lady who had purchaſed them. But though ſhe had no objection to the money, ſhe was extremely piqued to find her favourite lover had bought them, not doubting but they were deſigned for ſome formidable rival; and in this conjecture ſhe was confirmed, by the abrupt manner in which he had ſhortened his viſit, and left her. Diſtracted with jealouſy, ſhe imparted her ſentiments to a female viſitant, and both were earneſtly employed in railing at the infidelity of mankind; when behold one of the ſervants of the ſuſpected lover was introduced, who brought a baſket, decorated with the flowers in ſeaſon, and covered with noſegays, which being removed, the triumphant fair diſcovered the Green Peas, and thus her chagrin was inſtantly converted to immoderate fits of laughter at this droll adventure. As for the viſitor, being quite familiar in the houſe, and fond of dainties, ſhe inſiſted on eating the Peas, that they might not cauſe any more confuſion in the family. But as her motion was eaſily diſcerned, they went no further than the rules of politeneſs required, and only dreſſed one pottle.

After the lady was gone a new council was held, to deliberate on the diſpoſal of the remainder. The daughter had now no objection to ſell them again, but the mother having a lawſuit in hand, thought it more for her intereſt to ſend them to her attorney, which was accordingly done; and occaſioned a very warm diſpute between him and his wife: Madame loved good cheer, and inſiſted on regaling her friends with this rarity; but the attorney knew better how to ſerve his own intereſt, and ſent them to the Marquis , who had promiſed to procure him preferment.

But ſcarce were the Peas ſet down upon the table, when the lover who had adorned the baſket with flowers, came to viſit the Marquis, and ſeeing his preſent to his miſtreſs, thus, as it were, fly in his face, he concealed his reſentment, but took the firſt opportunity to pay a viſit to his perfidious miſtreſs; who very coolly thanked him for his Peas, adding that they had an excellent flavour: Enraged at their carrying the matter ſo far, he then told her, that ſhe muſt wait till the Marquis had taſted them, before ſhe gave her opinion of their goodneſs. The lady at a loſs to gueſs his meaning, and confounded at the violence of his tranſports, demanded an explanation; he then related to her the incident, but ſhe not ſuſpecting what had happened, affirmed that they were not the ſame Peas; this enraged him ſtill more, and he required to ſee the baſket in which he himſelf had placed the pottles, and which he had adorned with flowers; not being able to produce it, the quarrel ſeemed to admit of no terms of accommodation; when in came the Peas again. The Marquis who had a ſecret inclination for the lady, (the greateſt beauty in Paris) thought them a very proper preſent for her. Our lover was now fully convinced that the Marquis could not be ſo abſurd to ſend his miſtreſs her preſent to him, yet he was convinced they were the ſame Peas: The mother therefore was obliged to

BOSTON, July 9.

Yeſterday Captain Stevens arrived from Falmouth, and brought prints to the 10th of May; but they contain no material news.

PROVIDENCE, July 6.

Since our laſt Capt. John Peck arrived here from the river Miſſiſſippi, with whom came paſſenger Joſeph Naſh, Eſq; of this Town. By whom we learn, that ſince the concluſion of the peace the French and Spaniards had ſeduced ſeven nations of Indians from the Engliſh, by means of medals, colours, and other preſents, and ſettled them on the weſtern banks of the Miſſiſſippi; but that John Thomas, Eſq; deputy ſuperintendent of Indian affairs in that department, had lately arrived there, and from his former acquaintance with the Indians, and the ſurpriſing influence he has over them, all the above nations have determined to return and ſettle on the Engliſh ſide of the river.—The warlike nation of the Arkanſas have determined to join the Chickeſaws, Shawaneſe and Cherokees, in a war againſt the Kickapoos, for killing ſome Engliſh Settlers on the Ohio and Miſſiſſippi.

We further learn, that an unhappy diſpute having lately ariſen between the ſuperintendent and Mr. Haris, a merchant's clerk at fort Bute, on the river, they both drew their Swords, when Mr. Haris was killed on the ſpot, and the ſuperintendent ſlightly wounded. He immediately delivered himſelf up, and was to take his trial at Penſacola.

A few days before Capt. Peck ſailed from New-Orleans, an ordinance was publiſhed by the Governor of Louiſiana, by order of his Catholick Majeſty, prohibiting the introduction of all ſorts of foreign cotton ſtuffs, or other ſtuffs mixed with cotton, under the penalty of ſuch goods being confiſcated, and of twenty bits for every yard of ſuch goods that ſhall be ſeized.——The like prohibition, we learn, will take place throughout his Catholick Majeſty's dominions.

NEWPORT, July 6.

Yeſterday arrived here Capt. William Bourk, late maſter of the brig Minerva, of this port, who was bound from the Bay of Honduras for Europe, who informs, that himſelf and ſix more, viz. Capt. James Davis, of the ſhip Marquis of Granby; Capt. William Chambers, of the ſchooner Polly, of New-Providence, Richard Hayward, Benjamin Knox, John Nichol, and James Fiſher, went aſhore on the 22th of May, at Swan's Iſland, in one boat, to look for a good watering place, their veſſels being ſhort of water; but the wind and tide prevented the veſſels getting near in with the iſland that day, ſo they concluded to ſtay aſhore till next morning, in hopes they would get in with the iſland:—— When morning came they could but juſt diſcern their veſſels, when they put off and endeavoured to get on board; but ſoon after the wind and ſea roſe ſo high that their boat was almoſt filled, and they were obliged to keep before the wind, and could neither fetch the veſſels nor the iſland.—Next day, ſeeing nothing of the veſſels, they concluded to make the firſt land they could, and after being in the boat eight days, with ſcarce any thing to eat, they reached Rattan. Benjamin Knox and Richard Hayward died in the boat, and Capt. Davis and John Nichol died almoſt as ſoon as they landed.

NEW-HAVEN, July 10.

Laſt Wedneſday evening, about half after nine o'clock, began here an extraordinary appearance of the Aurora Borealis, or Northern Light, which ended with the morning twilight, while it continued it was for the moſt part of uniform luſtre, but there were ſome intervals when it almoſt diſappeared. The main body lay above the horizon, in the form of a regular arch, the higheſt part of which might be about 9 or 10 degrees above it, and directly under the Pole-ſtar.—The arch ſubtended 120 degrees of the horizon, and was moſtly of a pallid hue; from which, as a ground work, there would frequently dart forth in quick ſucceſſion, brighter gleams of light, reſembling pillars of ſmoke, in forms of pyramids, to the heighth of about 25 degrees above the horizon.

But what was moſt extraordinary attending the general Phoenomenon, was a very conſpicuous and conſtant corruſcation, or flaſhing of light from the forementioned arch, which, by an undulatory motion, would ſpread promiſcuouſly through all parts of the appearance, like flaſhes of lightning from clouds; but no noiſe was heard from it.—The luſtre was ſo great in ſome parts, that the two pointers in the conſtellation of the Great Bear were almoſt rendered inviſible, which otherwiſe would have been very conſpicuous, as the ſky was very ſerene during the whole.—The wind at due north.

Yeſterday the Beaver ſloop of war arrived here from the eaſtward.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.

Capt. Peel, from Liſbon, on the 24th ult. in lat. 25, 5, long. 53, 48, ſpoke the ſchooner Sally, Capt. Hopkins, from New-Haven for Dominica, out 24 days.

By a Gentleman who came paſſenger with Capt. Peel, we have advice, that the ſhip Polly, Capt. Carmichael, from London for Maryland, having ſprung a leak at ſea, put into Liſbon in great diſtreſs; ſhe had five feet water in her hold, and all the pumps choak'd with the ballaſt. It is imagined, ſhe will be detained ſome time to refit.

Capt. Bulkley, from Liſbon, on the 27th May, in lat. 37, 58, long. 66, 21, ſpoke the ſhip Buchanan, Capt. Moodie, from New-York, for Madeira, all well.

NEW-YORK, July 16.

Capt. Pruden arrived here in 10 Days from New-Providence, and informs us, That on the 28th ult. the Captain of a Sloop from this Port for Penſacola, and ſome of his People, arrived there from Crooked-Iſland, where they had the Misfortune to be caſt away a few Days before; that the Veſſel was entirely loſt, but moſt of the Cargo ſaved, and was brought up to Providence.

A Snow from Liverpool arrived at Barbados laſt May, the Captain of which, being a Man of Veracity reported, That about 62 Leagues E. b. S. from that Iſland he diſcovered a flat curled Rock, a little above the Surface of the Water; that he hoiſted out his Boat, went cloſe to it, but could find no Bottom with a Line of 90 Fathom.

Sunday laſt his Excellency Governor TRYON, and his Lady, accompanied by his Secretary Col. Fanning, embarked for Albany.

On Monday Morning about 2 o'Clock, after a painful and lingering Illneſs, which he bore with uncommon Patience and Chriſtian Fortitude, departed this Life, the Honourable Colonel RICHARD MAITLAND, Deputy Adjutant General to his Majeſty's Troops in America, in the 48th Year of his Age, univerſally lamented by all his Acquaintance, as an affectionate Friend to Mankind. He was the fourth Son of the Right Honourable Charles Earl of Lauderdale, Viſcount Maitland, Baron of Therleſtan, Muſſelburgh and Bolton, by Lady Ann Ogilvie, Daughter of the Right Honourable James Ogilvie, Baron Deſkford, and Earl of Findlater, Viſcount Redhaven, and Earl of Seafield.

He was a Perſon of excellent Qualities, every Way ſuitable to the Nobility of his Birth, and the Rank whereunto he was promoted in the Army. He was polite in his Addreſs, of a ſweet, affable, and benevolent Diſpoſition; without the leaſt Tincture of the ſour and auſtere, of the captious and cenſorious, of the aſſuming and over-bearing. He was of a frank, open and generous Mind; a Stranger to all Artifice and Diſguiſe; Faithfulneſs and Veracity, Honour and Integrity, Candour and Humanity, were his juſt Characteriſtics; which rendered him amiable and reſpected, by as many as were within the Sphere of his Acquaintance. The Death of a Perſon, poſſeſſed of ſo many ſocial Virtues, may be juſtly lamented as a public Loſs.

His Remains were depoſited with all the Military Honours due to his Rank, in Trinity Church Yard, in this City, on Tueſday the 14th Inſtant.

On Monday laſt, a little Boy not quite 4 Years of Age, ſon of one Black, near Peck's-Slip, fell into the Dock and was drowned: He was taken out in a few Minutes after he fell into the Water, and all Means that could be deviſed were uſed for his recovery—but, all proved ineffectual.

☞ The Harlem Church Lottery will be drawn at the Houſe of Mr. David Philipſe, at the Horſe and Cart.

Not one Blank and three Quarters to a Prize.

IT is with ſincere Gratitude the United Preſbyterian Congregations in the City of New-York acknowledge the Favours of the Public in filling the late New Caſtle Lottery, which is now finiſhed with the greateſt Exactneſs, and it is with great Reluctance this new Scheme is offered to their Friendſhip; but as the neat Proceeds ariſing to them from the firſt Lottery, fall ſhort of their Debt more than One Thouſand Pounds, and their old Church ſtands in Need of Repair, and their new Church not yet finiſhed, it is hoped theſe preſſing Neceſſities will apologize for their ſecond Application to their Benevolence.

The Preſbyterian Congregation in New-York, called Seceders, labour under ſo heavy a Debt incurred by building their Church, that they muſt ſhortly ſink under the Weight of it, unleſs ſpeedily relieved in this or ſome other Way; and the Congregation in Richmond County has not had the Ordinances of the Goſpel adminiſtered among them in a ſtated Way, in the Manner their Conſciences direct them to Worſhip the God of their Fathers, ſince their firſt Foundation, nor are they able to ſupport them without conſiderable Aſſiſtance, which is requeſted in this Method.—Theſe Conſiderations it is hoped will induce the Benevolent to encourage this new Scheme, which is ſtill more advantageous to the Adventurers than the firſt, as there is not quite one Blank and three Quarters to a Prize, and the loweſt Prizes are double the Value of the Ticket, which may draw Four Thouſand One Hundred Dollars.

The following Gentlemen are appointed Managers, who are to be upon Oath for the faithful Diſcharge of the Truſt repoſed, viz. George Monro, Eſq; David Finney, Eſq; John Thompſon, Eſq; Nicholas Van Dyke, Eſq; and Mr. Samuel Patterſon, all of New-Caſtle County: And as there are a Number of Gentlemen of extenſive Acquaintance and Influence who intereſt themſelves in the Diſpoſal of the Tickets, it is not doubted it will be completed by the firſt Day of Auguſt next, when the Drawing is to begin at the Town of New-Caſtle.

A Liſt of the fortunate Numbers will either be publiſhed in the Boſton, Rhode-Iſland, Connecticut, New-York, Philadelphia, and Charles-Town News-Papers, or carefully ſent to thoſe Places; and the Prizes will be paid, ſubject to a Deduction of Fifteen per Cent. by Meſſrs David Vanborne, Nathaniel Hazard, John Murray, William Neilſon, Walter Buchanan, John Morton, Samuel Broome, and Co. and John Broome, Merchants in New-York; by Doctor John Cochran, in New-Brunſwick; Robert Ogden, Eſq; and Mr. John Blanchard, Merchants in Elizabeth-Town; Meſſrs Peter Chevalier, John Bayard, and John Meaſe, Merchants, in Philadelphia; and by proper Perſons who ſhall hereafter be appointed, in all the other capital Towns on the Continent.

TICKETS are to be had from the Managers, and from Doctor John M'Kinly, in Wilmington. Orders for Tickets left with any of the above named Gentlemen will be carefully forwarded. 41—

RAN away from the ſubſcriber, on Wedneſday the 8th inſtant, a negro man named Squire, about 19 or 20 years of age, five and an half feet high, ſlim made, long viſage, large eyes, down look, remarkable thick lips, and is ſlow of ſpeech; he was born in Guinea, but ſpeaks good Engliſh: He had on an oznaburg or check ſhirt, oznaburg trowſers, a broad ſtriped blue and white waiſtcoat, and is ſuppoſed to have taken with him an old coarſe brown cloth pea jacket, lined with green baiſe, a pair of old ſhoes and an old hat. He was ſeen on board of a boat, and it is ſuppoſed is gone towards Philadelphia: He was heard to ſay that he would endeavour to get ſome white man to travel with him as his maſter, and it is therefore not improbable that ſome ſuch evil-minded perſon may be with him, and pretend to own him. Whoever takes up, and returns the ſaid negro to me, near Burling's-Slip, in New-York, ſhall have five pounds reward, beſides all reaſonable charges.

THE MISER.

WITH MUCKWORM lately as in Chat
I pass'd the sober Hours,
The Mice, for MUCKWORM keeps no Cat,
Came trooping in by Scores.

2. When Famine drives, what else can daunt,
Or its Impulse abate?
Each Mouse was as the Mastiff gaunt,
That growl'd before the Gate.

3. Their Mein so grim, alarm'd I 'spied,
And Looks of desperate Woe:
"And why neglect, my Friend," I cried,
"To chase the threatening Foe?

4. "'Tis true that they, no more than you
"Can eat your hoarded Pelf:
"But then of other Food in Lieu,
"They may devour yourself.

5. "And think how odd the Account would sound,
"Should future Annals tell,
"That MUCKWORM, not by hungry Hound,
"But hungry Mice he fell.

6. "Then drive the furious Vermine hence,
"To ward such dire Mishap;
"Nor fret, I pray thee for the Expence,
"For I will lend the Trap.

7. "Your Offer's kind," Friend MUCKMORM cried,
"And highly do I rate it;
"But when the Trap's by you supplied,
"Who'll lend the Cheese to bait it?"

THE Lottery for the Benefit of the Dutch Church at Harlem, could not be drawn, as was proposed, on the 22d of June, as too many Tickets remained then unsold; it is now proposed that the Drawing shall commence on Monday the 20th Instant. John Keating,
AT HIS PAPER MANUFACTORIES,
At and near New-York, makes

ALL sorts of paper and paste board, viz.

Brown, whited brown, Blue, and grey } Waste or wrapping paper, different sizes,
Purple sugar loaf, Cartridge and press } Paper
Printing and writing paper of various sorts and sizes
Paste board of all qualities and sizes

Which are to be sold at the lowest prices, at his store in Queen-street, near Burling's slip, where he gives the best prices for Linen Rags, according to their quality and fineness.

When it is considered that the above paper and other articles manufactured here, make a clear saving to this country or all the money that would have been sent out to purchase them from abroad, it is hoped that all those who really wish to promote the interest of America, and of this country in particular, with which their own interest is closely connected, will contribute their aid to the success of this undertaking, which cannot be effectually done without a constant care in saving and supplying him with those linen rags, which are generally destroyed or thrown away as useless, tho' they are absolutely necessary to a paper manufactory, which cannot be carried on without them.

To add to the difficulty of procuring a sufficiency of rags, considerable quantities have been collected here and sent to other colonies, whereby their manufactories have been supplied, to the injury of our own, with this material article; And tho' the legislature have not yet thought proper to prohibit the exportation of it, yet it is hoped a due regard to their own interest will incline the inhabitants of this country to supply a manufactory among themselves, preferably to those of another colony.

N. B. Good encouragement will be given to journeymen paper makers. 31—

LONDON, April 23.

The late Pretender had a penſion from England, as well as from all the other Courts of Europe, which enabled him to live with ſplendor at Rome; and neither George the firſt nor George the ſecond would ſtoop to the littleneſs of withdrawing that benevolence, even when a rebellion on his account was actually raging through the kingdom. James the ſecond in like manner had a penſion of four thouſand pounds a year privately ſent him by his daughter Mary; and it is no unuſual circumſtance for thoſe to furniſh a diſcarded Prince with bread, who are immediately intereſted to keep him from the throne.

Extract of a letter from Dublin.

"The Angleſea cauſe is poſtponed to the latter end of April principally on account of a new claimant, a Mr. Salkeld, who aſſerts his mother was married to Lord Angleſea in the year 1743. The hiſtory of this marriage, as it is every where ſpoke of, is whimſical enough. Lord Angleſea had ſeen this lady (who was the daughter of a gentleman in the country of England) fell in love with her, and bribed a ſiſter in law of her's, a milliner in Cheapſide, to bring about the buſineſs. She was baſe enough to be an aſſiſtant, and accordingly ſent for this young lady to ſpend a few weeks in town. The other very readily obeyed; and a party being made, by my Lord's planning, to go to the play, he joined them in the character of a Grazier, and by fruit and other little aſſiduities, particularly recommended himſelf to Miſs Salkeld. At the concluſion of the play, the milliner and her friends went off; and the young lady being quite a ſtranger in town, and imagining the loſs of her company to be accidental, threw herſelf for protection on the ſtranger. My Lord availed himſelf of this opportunity, took her to a Bagnie, and, under the uſual pretence of not being able to get a coach, he prevailed upon her to be intoxicated, and then debauched her. He lived with this lady for ſome time, and married her a few months before the birth of the preſent claimant."

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Preſentments of the Grand Jurors for the Body of this Province at the Court of General Seſſions of the Peace, Oyer and Terminer, Aſſize, and general Gaol Delivery, holden at Charles-Town, on Monday the 20th of January 1772.

I. WE preſent, as a grievance, the want of creditable perſons to act as magiſtrates; ſuch perſons in general holding that commiſſion only to exempt them from rendering other ſervices for the good of their country, and by which the execution of juſtice is often entruſted with partial, unjuſt, trading juſtices, to the great hurt of honeſt good men, and hurtful to the province in general.

II. That ſufficient regard is not had to the character of thoſe men who are entruſted with the commiſſion of the peace, which appears by again empowering a preſent acting juſtice, (Fenwicke Bull) who was ſome time ago deprived of that commiſſion from his bad practices, publickly confeſſed by himſelf.

III. We preſent, as a grievance, the office of conſtables, being in the execution of perſons of a mean low character, whoſe poverty and ignorance ſubject them to take bribes, by which villains do often eſcape juſtice.

IV. We preſent, as a grievance, the general neglect of the militia officers, in not muſtering the militia according to law; and alſo, that the patrole acts are not properly enforced.

V. We preſent, as a grievance, the great number of dram ſhops and tippling houſes in Charles-Town, ſuch as entertain negroes and other diſorderly perſons; and recommend, that the magiſtrates would be more vigilant in ſuppreſſing ſuch peſts of ſociety.

VI. We preſent, as a grievance, the general bad ſtate of the publick roads throughout the province, and recommend toll bridges as a proper means to have them kept in better order in future.

VII. We preſent, as a very great grievance, the diſorderly behaviour of the town watch, by which they defeat the good end intended of watching and preſerving the property of the people and town from harm, inſtead thereof are become a very great nuiſance, by beating and abuſing negroes ſent on errands by their maſters with tickets, and letting others eſcape that have none; by which irregularities the negroes in general do diſregard them, and if they can but raiſe the ſum of ten ſhillings to pay for their releaſe, are not afraid of being out all night.

BOSTON, July 5.

It is reported, that a few days ago at Rhode-Iſland, two Tide-Waiters belonging to his Majeſty's Cuſtoms, being put on board a veſſel juſt arrived, in the night ſome perſons unknown, ſtripped the waiters, then rubbed their bodies over with oil or tar and lampblack, and carried them on board an empty veſſel that lay nigh the other, put them in the hold under lock, and left them until morning.

Tueſday laſt a perſon applied to the Printer for a number of types, and ſaid they were for printing ſome lines to go to the bottom of a family coat of arms, 5 of which had been done for as many brothers by the name of Sutton. There was about a dozen lines, ten words in a line, and did not ſeem applicable to any arms; upon inquiry he ſaid he came from the borders of New-York government, by which it was ſuſpected that he wanted the types for ſome other deſign, and was diſmiſſed.

We hear from Oxford, that one Mr. Joſeph Davis was digging in a cellar in a dry gravel dug up a buſhel or more frogs four feet under the ground. In a cloudy day they would live to jump ſome rods from the cellar, but when the ſun ſhined upon them they died;—they continued coming out of the ground till the cellar was ſtoned, and then there was a croaking ſome rods from the cellar in the ground for ſome time. The cellar has been improved for a year, and never has had any water in it, but always proved very dry.

PHILADELPHIA July 9.

Extract of a letter from Jamaica.

"St Lucee (Jamaica) June 7, 1772:—We have had ſuch a deluge this week, that barrels of proviſions, and firkins of Butter, with many other articles, were waſhed out of Lopez's and S. James's ſtores; it waſhed away one pillar of the wharfinger's houſe, and ſunk the middle of the ſtore-houſe roof. The ſtreet of Lucee was above three feet under water, which obliged (as I am informed) Edward Watkins, and ſome other of the inhabitants, to ſtand on their tables."

Extract of a letter from Port-au Prince, dated June 4, 1772.

"I have juſt now heard of a ſloop belonging to Philadelphia, which has put into one of the ports in this iſland from the main. It is reported the people have murdered the Captain for the money he had on board. I can't inform you of any particulars, as every one here tells a different ſtory about her."

Monday laſt arrived here, in fifteen days paſſage, Captain Thomas, from Cape Francois, who informs, that a ſloop belonging to New-York, which had been run away with, was ſeized there by a perſon ſent from New York in queſt of her. The pirate Captain had been put in gaol, but found means to make his eſcape.——This is probably the ſloop mentioned above.

Extract of a letter from Princeton, dated July 7.

"About two weeks ago, ſome coals were diſcovered to have been put at the ſouth end of Dr. Witherſpoon's houſe, together with a bottom of an old chair, which was ſtuffed between the boards: Happily they went out, and no damage was done. The preſident procured a watch for ſome ſucceeding nights, but as the attempt was not renewed, the thing was forgot, and the coals ſuppoſed to have got there by accident.

"Laſt Wedneſday evening one Gan, a barber, ſmelling a ſtench, like burning rags, ſearched narrowly about, and at length diſcovered a large coal, wrapped up in a piece of linen, which in a few moments would have ſet the houſe on fire. This, and the foregoing attempt, convinced them, their was ſome miſchief brooding, and accordingly they ſeized an old man, who has ſince been found innocent.

"On Friday night we were alarmed with the cry of fire; I looked out of my window, and diſcovered a ſmall light in Mr. Baldwin's barn; but before I had run twenty rods, the whole barn was in a blaze; before any body arrived, it was beyond our power to ſave it. All that could be done, was to preſerve the neighbouring barracks. Our ſteward loſt moſt of this year's hay, a vaſt deal of grain and ſtraw, a waggon, which was loaded with hay, a new ſaddle, all his implements of huſbandry, &c."

Some accounts from Princeton ſay, that while the Collegians were at the fire, ſome perſon, or perſons, entered the College and ranſacked their rooms, and carried off a quantity of plunder.

Capt. Curtis, from Waterford, on the 1ſt of July, in lat. 38. 45. long 70. ſpoke the ſhip Franklin, from New-York for Liverpool, three days out.

Extract of a letter from Baltimore county, in Maryland, dated July 2, 1772.

"In our neighbourhood, at Mr. Paca's quarter, on Deer Creek, a cow lately brought forth a calf with a head repreſenting that of the human ſpecies; differing principally in the ſituation of the eyes and ears, the latter being on the neck, and the former on each ſide of the head, where the ears ought to have been."

On Saturday laſt, a young man of the name of Williams, a houſe carpenter, who lately arrived here from Scotland, was unfortunately drowned in the river Schuylkill, whither he went to bathe.

Yeſterday Captain Leaycraft, arrived here in three weeks from Saltertuda, at which place he left Captain Matlin, in a ſloop bound to New-York, who was to ſail about 10 days after him. Captain Leaycraft informs, that the Spaniſh guarda coaſtas, having lately taken 2 or 3 Coracoa men who were trading on the main, they had fitted out a ſtout ſloop, mounted with 12 carriage guns, to go in ſearch of them, and it is ſaid ſhe had a ſmart ſkirmiſh with one of them, but the particulars were not come to hand when they ſailed.

ROAD LOTTERY.

WHEREAS the drawing of this lottery was appointed to begin the firſt of this inſtant July, and the managers not having been informed whether ſome of the tickets ſent to the neighbouring colonies for ſale, are diſpoſed of or not; they have therefore thought beſt to poſtpone the drawing till the twenty ſeventh inſtant, when it will certainly begin; and as the time is near at hand, it is deſired of all perſons who have had the diſpoſal of tickets, to make returns without fail by that day. 39 4t

Some tickets ſtill on hand, may be had at the uſual places.

BILES ISLAND LOTTERY.

THE managers of this lottery, do hereby inform the publick, that they have determined to begin drawing on Monday the 20th day of July next, and to continue from day to day till the drawing is finished. There are yet a few tickets unsold, which, it is expected, will all be disposed of by that time; but if that should not be the case, the publick may be assured that the lottery will be drawn at the time abovementioned, without fail. No lottery was ever set on foot of such general Advantage to this city as attends this, as by means thereof 400 lots of ground will be distributed among a number of freeholders, and that at the moderate price of 23l. per lot on an average, which is certainly much preferable to hireing ground on lease, at 40s. per annum for a lot, as is generally given, or even better than to hire at 20s. No arguments are necessary to make this evident, many know it by experience; it is therefore not doubted but the few tickets on hand will readily be disposed of. Such as are desirous to become Adventurers are requested to be speedy in their applications.

The managers are,
PHILIP LIVINGSTON,
RICHARD SHARPE,
ISAAC ROOSEVELT,
THOMAS MARSTON,
THEOPHILACT BACHE,
GABRIEL H. LUDLOW, and LIVINUS CLARKSON.

NEW-YORK, June 23, 1772. 38 42

WILLIAM DEANE, Coachmaker,

INFORMS the publick in general, and his customers in particular, that he carries on his business as usual, in Broad street, where he makes all sorts of coaches, landeaus, phatons, curricles, chairs and chaises; likewise all sorts of harness and saddlers work, as also painting, gilding and japanning in the neatest and most elegant manner.—And as he finishes all carriages whatever in his own shop, without applying to any other, he is likewise determined to make them as good, sell them as cheap, and be as expeditious as there is a possibility; and to convince the publick of the truth of what he asserts, he will make any piece of work that is required, equal to any imported from England, and will sell it at the prime cost of that imported, by which means those who are pleased to favour him with their custom will save the freight, insurance, and the expences naturally attending in putting the carriages to rights after they arrive. And as a further inducement, he will engage his work for a year after it is delivered, that is, if any part gives way or fails by fair usage, he will make it good at his own expence. Those advantages cannot be obtained on carriages imported. He has now a considerable stock of the best of all materials fit for making carriages.—For the above reasons, he most humbly requests the encouragement of the publick, which will be most gratefully acknowledged by him.

Said DEANE paints and repairs all manner of old work very reasonably; and has for sale, just finished, a new phaton, and four new chairs. 39 64
